

Legal 500

Have you heard what others are saying?

The 2009 edition of The Legal 500 has just been published and will be accessible in paper copy and online at www.legal500.com.

Rogers & Norton are once again delighted to be acknowledged in many areas of the Practice.

Some of the comments that have been made include:

Corporate & Commercial

'one of the leading small private law firms in Norfolk, providing value for money and taking pride in caring for clients'. Richard Etheridge brings a 'commercial and constructive approach', a 'detailed knowledge of the law and a personable nature' that is appreciated by many local businesses.

Licensing

'Working with them has always been great, response times are very quick, and they have a wealth of experience', say clients of Bruce Faulkner. It is a 'one-stop shop' for licensing law and property advice.

Dispute Resolution/Employment

Multi-talented litigator John Cadywould has 'a wealth of experience coupled with a professional ethos and empathy' in everything from libel to contractual disputes.

Phil Kerridge is 'highly professional, very knowledgeable and can talk in layman's terms' to the great satisfaction of clients, who report 'friendly, professional service'.

Personal Injury

The team at Rogers and Norton 'focuses on the personal relationship with the client'. Tim Nobbs and Mark Hambling are recommended.

Family

Amy Walpole and Colin Grooms, a founder member of the Norwich Family Law Group, are reliable choices for ancillary relief and domestic abuse cases.

Private Client

'a very good all-round firm for private client work'. Tom Lawrence has built a reputation for high-quality, attentive service in Catherine Hawdon's team.

Property

Rogers and Norton is experienced in complex transactions thanks to Bruce Faulkner, Marc Greig and Robert Pyke, who represent many local businesses and property developers. Recent matters include advising in relation to a new bridge over the River Wensum, and new hangars and a helicopter terminal at Norwich Airport.

These extracts are all taken from The Legal 500 2009 edition.

It is particularly gratifying to receive acknowledgements in The Legal 500. A substantial amount of research is undertaken with clients and fellow lawyers before the publication is written and we are therefore delighted to receive the glowing acknowledgements detailed above.
